It also includes other types of rights, such as trade secrets, public rights, moral rights and rights against unfair competition. Artistic works like music and literature, as well as some discoveries, invention, words, phrases, symbols, and designs can all be protected as intellectual property. IPR or Intellectual Property Rights in education can include patents for innovative teaching technologies, copyrights for educational materials such as textbooks, creative works, logos of educational institutions etc. Unfortunately, the awareness of Intellectual Property Rights is limited to higher education institutions. The University Grants Commission (UGC) issued a letter for inclusion of IPR as a subject under Choice Based Credit System (CBCS). This was an initiative towards promoting IPR in higher education. The objective of this seminar was to create an awareness on Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) among staff and the students.
